JUPITER GROUP, SIX MILES NORTH, HAS EXCELLENT SHOWING IN FOUR METALS

One of the most promising properties in the outlying region tributary to Tonopah is that of the Tonopah Jupiter Mining company, which lies about six miles north from this city by wagon road, or five miles in an air line. It is located about 1,000 feet higher than Tonopah.

The holdings consist of four full and one fractional claims, amounting to about 90 acres. Fred T. Peterson is president of the company. Wm. Thomas is vice president. Wm. Roberts is secretary and treasurer and the other directors are George B. Thatcher and Mrs. F. T. Peterson.

Mr. Peterson located the ground ten years ago and has been active in its development ever since. The group consists of the Flora, County Cork, Jupiter, Extension and Extension No. 1. The formation trends nearly east and west and is plainly indicated on the surface, there being no wash or volcanic overflow. This formation consists of a weathered andesite, through which extend two zones of rhyolite, on the walls of which the contact veins are formed.

Values consist of gold, silver, copper and lead, the proportions varying at different points. The veins are talc gouged, the talc itself carrying values. Assays from picked samples run some times as high as $200 a ton, but the average values are in the neighborhood of shipping grade, although there has not yet been a sufficient amount of ore hoisted to warrant the starting

YOUNG ORATORS WILL CONTEST FOR PLACE

CANDIDATES OF THE STATE CONTEST WILL BE HEARD NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

On Thursday evening, May 4th, the high school declamation contest will take place for the purpose of choosing representatives of Tonopah High for the state contest to take place at the university in Reno on May 12. The school is entitled to two representatives, one boy and one girl, and, although preparation for the contest was not begun until after Miss Fields had taken charge of the English work in the high school, it is evident that the school will have creditable representation in the state contest. For the local contest next Thursday evening, Mr. Cross with his enlarged orchestra is busily preparing new and special music and the entire evening's program will be one of special merit.

George W. Hann arrived this morning from Berkeley to take the position in the high school left vacant by the Grubbs—Young Blower tells me that at the trial of the last case in which he participated he moved the jurors to tears. Stubbs—Yes, so one of the jurors told me. He said that they were hummed in by a high calling and two bailiffs were constantly on guard. The tears were tears of rage.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Owing to lack of funds the various workings still are at shallow depth. The deepest shaft is down 100 feet and has a sixteen foot crosscut at the bottom. The next is down 75 feet with 37 feet of lateral work. Another is down 65 feet. The other workings, of which there are six or eight, are shallow. A number of trenches have been run, exposing vein matter. At one point some nodules of quartz, containing ruby silver, have been found. The whole property shows mineralization, with the best values at the greatest depths and only lack of funds have prevented the company from going to the depths, beneath the surface throws, to where permanent ore bodies are believed to exist.

Peterson's camp, the headquarters for the working force, is ideally located. It is in a tiny valley, with eminences arising on three sides. Here is a plentiful supply of pure, icy cold water and natural grass grows in abundance, in a little grove of poplar trees.

While the ore in the Tonopah Jupiter is not free milling, it is not believed that it will be necessary to send it to the smelter. Experiments have been made in Tonopah with concentration and it is found that the ore is very tractable under this process, although it is expected that even better results would be obtained by means of oil flotation.

resignation of Mr. Walker. Mr. Hann has been doing post graduate work the past year in the University of California. Previous to that he served a number of years as head of the mathematics department in San Bernardino high school and Hanford Junior College. For some time he was teaching fellow in mathematics in the University of Nebraska, his alma mater. For the years 1912-14 he was principal of the Eureka county high school at Eureka, Nevada. It is evident that the mathematics classes in the high school will be able to complete their year's work in good shape under the able direction of Mr. Hann.

Work on the senior class play, "The Schoolmistress," is progressing in excellent shape and a treat is in store for the pleasure loving people of Tonopah. This is the first attempt of the high school to stage a senior class play during commencement week, but the school has plenty of good material for this new line of work and with Miss Fields as coach there can be no doubt of the success of the undertaking. The play is one of the most popular for amateur production and requires a cast of sixteen to produce it. The orchestra is preparing plenty of choice music for use between the acts of the play.

All the teachers in the public schools are putting forth their best efforts to bring to a happy close this most successful year in the history of the Tonopah schools. A display of work accomplished since the February "visitors' day" will be in readiness for the inspection of the public on or about the closing day of the school. In addition, each teacher in the kindergarten and the grades is preparing an entertainment number for a program to be rendered in the gymnasium on the afternoon of the closing day of school. More complete announcement of this and other school functions for commencement week will be made as fast as plans are matured.

MASQUERADE BALL PLAY AT AIRDOME

HUMOROUS PERFORMANCES PRECEDED BY A STREET PARADE LAST NIGHT

The bankers and brokers turned out last night for a game of indoor baseball that was decided in the favor of both teams by a score of 11 to 11. The umpire, Charles J. Blumenthal, excused this ruling by saying he was afraid to tell the truth as his life was in danger from the teams whose members were in a bellicose mood and would not have hesitated to indulge in reprisals, as they say in Germany. As a matter of precaution the same umpire wore a bird cage for a mask and the teams were garbed in motley that excited the risibilities of crowds along Main street during the parade before the sanguinary encounter. Coryphees, clowns, one lone highlander and yama yama girls made up the personnel of the expedition that captured applause at the Airdome.

Buildings.

Buildings are contrivances which surround trouble, despair, pleasure, entertainment, business, indolence and plumbing.

Buildings are built with brick, mortar, cement, wood, steel and mortgazes. It also takes sand to build buildings, but they should not be built on sand.

Some buildings are public and some are private. Public buildings are usually very imposing, and usually the public has been imposed upon to build them. Private buildings are frequently private in name only, especially if occupied by several inquisitive women. Such buildings are made up of a large number of stories and most of them are without foundation.

Rats, mice, flies, earthquakes and rent collectors are buildings' worst enemies.—Judge.

Long Days on Uranus.

Uranus can be claimed for a British planet. It was discovered at Bath in 1781 by the elder Sir William Herschel, the musician who became private astronomer to George III. Uranus is so distant from us and has an atmosphere so dense that little is known about the rotation, position of the axis or number of the satellites. But the inhabitants, if they exist, may console themselves for living in a temperature approaching zero with the fact that they can seldom be damned for income tax, because their year contains more than 30,000 days.—London Mail.
